COMPASSIONATE NATURE

Kia Ora everyone,

This edition has beautiful photographs captured by students participating in our new 'Borrow a camera, Tell a story' program, a selection from the nature reserve workshops at Tahuna Torea and Kepa bush and from students at Roscommon School.

The Borrow a camera program provides a dSLR camera on loan, workshops and mentoring to students wanting to tell a story about nature. We are starting a similar program for the Duke of Edinburgh's Hillary award.

Enjoy these images and settle into the rhythm of the season, whether it be winter or summer where you are.

Be well.

BORROW A CAMERA, TELL A STORY PROGRAM

Here are some pictures from our young photographers learning how to use an SLR camera, working on assigned and passion projects, and processing their own pictures in Adobe Lightroom. You can see their love for nature come through in their photographs!

The Furious Flame

The crispy leaves were crunchy indeed.
Bright yellow, red and orange leaves falling down from the trees, that's how you know autumn has begun.
They dance in the air not knowing that's the end of their lives.

For this photo, I wanted to create a faded look with the flower, so I used the editing tools on Lightroom and was pretty happy with the result.

Praying Mantises are my favourite insect, I love the details on their wings. This lady was very curious but scared of me.

The road that leads to heaven on earth

What made me take this picture was the inviting nature of the trees asking me to come explore them.

NATURE RESERVE WORKSHOPS TAHUNA TOREA AND KEPA BUSH

We had a great bunch of students and parents at the Tahuna Torea and Kepa Bush workshops. These workshops are funded by the Orakei local board and Wildlink network.

Here are some of the beautiful pictures they captured to show us the diversity and beauty of our nature reserves in the colder months. There is so much to appreciate, and a walk on the trails is good for our wellbeing.

Flow

“To the stone, to the hill, to the heap, to the seep, to the drip, to the weep, to the rock, to the rill, to the fell, to the wash, to the splash, to the rush, to the bush, to the creep, to the hush;”

SCHOOL WORKSHOP PROGRAM

Pictures from our school workshops at Roscommon School, Manurewa. These very creative and enthusiastic students have been really enjoying nature photography with our educator, Hina Patel.

This petal is beautiful and the sparkling water is so nice on the flower.
